

LISTEN

a deaf simulation

SYNOPSIS OF SIMULATION

The ability to hear, is something that a lot of us take for granted. The act of hearing occurs so automatically, we don't even need to make a conscious effort. What happens when we take away your ability to hear?

How do you order food? When the food arrives, how do you tell them that they have gotten the order wrong?

What about emergencies? If you are unable to hear the siren, or hear the announcements, how do you know that a fire has broken out?

Our Deaf facilitators will guide you through these scenarios, and LISTEN to them share their life journey, ways they overcome adversities and their hopes for their community.

OUTCOME

Placing participants in unfamiliar settings or uncomfortable situations heightens their ability to empathise with the deaf communities.

After the program, participants will better understand that people with disability are no different from the rest. They are only "disabled" by social barrier. Deaf people can thrive by providing them dignity and respect.

Aaron is an experienced volunteer and EQ trainer. He had led many youth volunteers to serve marginalised communities regionally.

"The simulation was a enriching experience that gave me the opportunity to speak to the deaf guides on a deeper level. It's not everyday that you get to do that."
